For over three decades, Styx has been one of the most popular and beloved bands of its generation. On their many multiplatinum albums, including The Grand Illusion, Pieces Of Eight, Cornerstone and Paradise Theater, the group created a series of immensely popular rockers and ballads that remain deeply ingrained in the musical fabric of American life.

STYX first came to prominence in 1974 with the Dennis DeYoung-penned Top 10 classic Lady.

With Tommy Shaw joining the band in 1976, STYX, now featuring Tommy Shaw (guitar, vocals), James Young (guitar, vocals), Dennis DeYoung (keyboards, vocals), and brothers Chuck Panozzo (bass) and John Panozzo (drums) were responsible for some of the most durable hits of the '70s and '80s including Crystal Ball, Fooling Yourself (The Angry Young Man), Come Sail Away, Blue Collar Man (Long Nights), Renegade, Babe, Borrowed Time, Rockin' The Paradise, The Best Of Times, Mr. Roboto.

After a brief hiatus in the mid 80s, STYX reformed in 1990 with Glen Burtnik replacing Tommy Shaw, releasing the well received album Edge Of The Century. After a second break, the band reformed once again in 1995, this time with Tommy Shaw aboard, producing a series of classic albums beginning with Return To Paradise and continuing into the new millennium with 2003's Cyclorama.

In 2004, STYX continues to steadily tour, performing selections from their remarkably durable catalogue for adoring crowds around the world.

For the first time ever COME SAIL AWAY: THE STYX ANTHOLOGY features thirty five classic recordings drawn from the band's complete 30 year career on Wooden Nickel, A&M and CMC/Sanctuary Records. Each recording has been digitally remastered from the original master tapes for spectacular sound.

COME SAIL AWAY: THE STYX ANTHOLOGY comes packaged with a deluxe booklet that features many rare photos, essay and detailed credits.
